PIERRE VADI
DELTA

The exhibition "Delta" of Pierre Vadi evokes visions of a lunar landscape where thin atmosphere has vitrified and warped. Rather than finding sedimentary deposits, one discovers the traces of construction: furred acrylic sheets, scattered stone screws, and circular saws of resin. The exhibition casts an anxiety onto all forward progression. It positions the viewer in a space where possible pasts and futures collide.

Pierre Vadi is a Swiss artist who lives and works in Geneva. His most recent projects include "Sas" at le Credac, Centre d'Art contemporain d'Ivry in Ivry Sur Seine (2008); "Coma" at Le Spot, Centre d'art contemporain in Le Havre (2007); and "Blackout" with Philippe Decrauzat at Hard Hat in Geneva (2007). Recent group exhibitions include "ECAL: A Success Story in Art and Design" organized by John Armleder at L'Elax in Rennes and "Emotional Landscapes" at Kunsthalle Fri-Art in Fribourg.

Pierre Vadi "Delta" is made possible with the kind support of Fonds d'art contemporain de la ville de Genève (Fmac)

SI programming is supported, in part, by Pro Helvetia – the Swiss Arts Council and by public funds from the New York City Department of Cultural Affairs.

CABARET VOLTAIRE BOUTIQUE

The Cabaret Voltaire is one of Switzerland's most vibrant contemporary art spaces, programming shows and events in the old town of Zurich (yes, it is also the birthplace of DADA back in 1916). The storefront is an unconventional boutique with a selection of objects, editions and fashion selected by Andrea Roca. For the month of December the Boutique Cabaret Voltaire will present some of the most exciting products from small creative industries across Switzerland, Europe and New York.
