Frédéric Levrat

SCALE OF THE MIND—
SCALE OF THE BODY:
Issues in Contemporary Architecture

The recent recipient of a New York Foundation for the Arts Fellowship Award, architect Frédéric Levrat talks about the visual code of architecture and the question of scale—of particular relevance given the multiple virtual realities we experience today.

Levrat, who set up his architectural office in New York in 1994, has worked with Eisenman Architects; Tadao Ando Associates; and holds teaching positions at Pratt Institute and Columbia University.
