

London
Evening
Standard*Fukushima soup on menu at art show

A SOUP made from radishes grown near the Fukushima nuclear power station is to be offered to visitors to Frieze Art Fair. The bright green soup will be part of a performance at next month's event in Regent's Park by two Japanese artists, known as United Brothers. Their mother, who will make the soup, lives near the Japanese power plant, where three reactors went into meltdown in 2011.