

Sending a Signal out in the Ether: Live on Radio Athènes

Merging the intimate story-telling aspect of the voice on the radio with the performative quality of bodies sharing this same experience in space “Sending a Signal out in the Ether: Live on Radio Athènes” sets out on a meandering journey between art, music, dreams, desires, politics and life.

View images on radioathenes.tv

Project #1 Kerstin Cmelka IF LOVING YOU IS WRONG, I DON'T WANNA BE RIGHT...

Friday 14 October 8 pm

Artist and occasional radio-host Kerstin Cmelka will perform a live DJ set and radio broadcast exploring female emotional desires and their attempts of expression in pop music.

Listen here

Cmelka's practice spans from her early experimental films through photographic reworkings of film stills, ad images, and production shots to her performances—known as "microdramas"—which act as reflexive commentaries on the poles of art and life by blurring the line dividing staging from reality.

Curated by Elena Tzotzi and organised in collaboration with Signal, Malmö www.signalsignal.org

Elena Tzotzi is the Co-director of Signal - Center for Contemporary Art in Malmö, Sweden, a collaborative exhibition venue, committed to producing, presenting, and contextualizing art. Previously, Tzotzi worked at the Rooseum Center for Contemporary Art and Lunds Konsthall. She has curated numerous exhibitions as a freelance curator and contributes regularly to publications and magazines.