

<https://www.schinkelpavillon.de/exhibition/sculpture-for-berlin>

BERNAR VENET

Sculpture for Berlin

31. January 2009 – 14. March 2009

The Schinkel Pavillon shows nine smaller sculptures by French sculptor Bernar Venet. Bernar Venet is internationally known for his larger sculptures, for example, "Arc 124,5 Degree." "Size does not really matter," Venet declares. "People think I am excited about doing very big sculptures. In reality, however, it is more exciting for me to produce little sculptures, which are totally radical and differ from everything else I know from the history of sculpture. This is a real pleasure."