MIKE KELLEY

6. February 2010 – 27. March 2010

The Schinkel Pavillon presents a video installation by the artist Mike Kelly, produced in 2009. On show are four monumental grey boulders alongside television screens showing crystalline formations inside of glass jars, accompanied by Mike Kelley's psychedelic music. The theme of the exhibition is the story of the comic hero Superman, the only surviving man from Krypton who lives on earth.
