

Who Are Who

with a mandala by Kaspar Müller, a prayer wheel by Lucie Stahl, a TV by Sadie Benning, a frog and a poetry book by Dena Yago, a dress and a doorbell by Juliette Blightman, a color study by Anna Bella Geiger, a couple of empty containers by Samuel Jeffery, a doorstop by Cerith Wyn Evans, some rocks and notes by Mitchell Syrop and a joker by Marie Angeletti.

This year there was more twitter about separation and emancipation. Neither nations, institutions or even best friends forever are immune to such ideas of dissociation. Renee Zellweger and others around are growing up. The cyclic shift and eclipse not only change individual faces but also (those of) social constellations. As always, some babies are lucky to be born whilst relationships are warily negotiated. Lineages get simultaneously claimed as they are obscured. Why so emotional? What does your horoscope say? Everyone is suffering because of something. Everybody can't be happy at the same time. You are a human being. That is always someone.

As told by Tenzing Barshee.

30 November - 31 December, 2014

Studio for Propositional Cinema
Ackerstraße 24, 40233 Düsseldorf
Open Saturdays 12 - 3 p.m. or by appointment

Image: Juliette Blightman, Untitled (Lucy Lippard, I See/You Mean), 2014

List of works

Marie Angeletti
Joker, 2014
Video

Anna Bella Geiger
a cor na arte BRASILEIRA, 1976
Artist's book

Sadie Benning
Old Waves Record One / Old Waves Record Two, 2011
Black & white video, sound

Juliette Blightman
→→→, 2006 - 2014
Doorbell

Juliette Blightman
Always there is a desire that impels and a convention that restrains..., 2013 - 2014
Inkjet print

Samuel Jeffery
Untitled (The City), 2013 - 2014
PVC, insulating tape, acrylic paint, acrylic lacquer, mastic, floor sweepings

Samuel Jeffery
Untitled (The City), 2014
PVC, insulating tape, acrylic paint, acrylic lacquer, mastic, floor sweepings

Kaspar Müller
Mandala, 2014
Acrylic glass, glue

Cerith Wyn Evans
Indeterminacy, 2026
Wood, lacquer

Lucie Stahl
Prayer Wheel, 2013
Can, aluminium

Mitchell Syrop
Hidden, 2014
Inkjet print

Mitchell Syrop
Rocks, 2010 - 2014
Inkjet print

Dena Yago
SVU Frog, 2014
Inkjet print

Dena Yago
Ambergris, 2014
Book, metal wire, grommet, rubber macaroon, embossed cardboard, American dollar bill