Universal Highjack

Delia Gonzalez

February 18, 2023 - March 25, 2023

MMXX is pleased to announce an exhibition of new sculptures and performances by Delia Gonzalez. This presentation marks the artist's first show in Milan. Depicting recognizable forms of office furniture, natural elements, social and professional habitude which the artist manipulates with an incoherent finish. Gonzalez new works dissected topic elements of art fruition and commercialization, drying those components to the limit of their own survival. Their functionality are still perceived, however they have been mummified by the artist through the use of special aestheticizing bandages of her own invention, not susceptible to time or fashions. Enjoy.

III-Drilling Through the Corpeal Mantle
