SydneySydney was established in 2016 by Conor O'Shea as a way of filtering his interests as an artist into a consistent gallery program. SydneySydney's program currently runs out of a 1920s apartment in Potts Point.

With this special invitation to occupy the Sarah Cottier Gallery premises for the month of September, SydneySydney presents an exhibition of Australian works that bring together a broad range of O'Shea's interests and influences.

Including works by Godfrey Miller, Rose Nolan, Stanislav Rapotec, Hilarie Mais, Joshua Petherick and Lewis Fidock, Robert Klippel, Norma Redpath, Ross Mellick, Stephen Bram and Anne Graham.

This exhibition broadens inter-gallery collaboration, with generous cooperation from our colleagues at Anna Schwartz Gallery, Charles Nodrum Gallery, Mais Wright, and Justin Miller Art.
