Christopher D'Arcangelo, book launch

To celebrate the launch of the first-ever monograph on conceptual artist Christopher D'Arcangelo, Kunstverein will transform into a radio station for seven consecutive days, staging (at least in part) his never-realized Open Museum Proposal. While archival material, correspondence and people surrounding D'Arcangelo's practice will be included in the broadcast, we are also extending the invitation to you.

Have you always wanted to hear your voice on air? Here's your shot! From October 6–13 the pirate station Phantom Radio (91.0mhzFM) will descend on Kunstverein's groundfloor to facilitate a marathon broadcast, offering 168 hour-long slots across seven days to whoever wishes to be part of A Museum for Everyone.

Here's what we need to know from you for now:
