LOCATION: X-berg Parking, Berlin

EXHIBITION TITLE: Green Tea Gallery Berlin

CURATED BY: Dingum

DATES: September 13 - September 14, 2014

Dingum has invited Fukushima-based Green Tea Gallery to take up residency in Berlin. Green Tea Gallery is a roving pop-up platform, which was founded by brothers Tomoo and Ei Arakawa aka United Brothers in the wake of the 2011 Fukushima nuclear disaster, encouraging international artists to collaborate on projects relating to the region.

For the duration of one weekend Green Tea Gallery and Dingum will present on the top floor of a parking garage an in situ wall work by Hamburg-based artist N.O.Madski (GFA & OBS), a screening of Episode 1 “Les Androïdes” of United Brothers’ film series, servings of octopus balls and green tea cocktails as well as a womb cake delivered by Kerstin Brätsch (an united sister of N.O.Madski) and Lisa Jo. In parallel to the exhibition a third episode “Ich bin ein Android” will be filmed on location and various other location in the city.
