

Impressions
Nolan Simon

- an idea, a feeling or an opinion that you get about somebody/something, or that somebody/something gives you
 - > Her performance did little to change my impression of her.<
 - > Jimmy stopped, recognized her, and broke into piteous sobs, crying for sheer joy, as she took him into her anus. <

- the effect that an experience or a person has on somebody/something
 - > i have seen the fjords <

- a drawing showing what a person looks like or what a place or a building will look like in the future
 - > In the future, artificial intelligence will function more like weather and economic patterns – hyper objects existing in all spaces. <

- impression (of somebody) an amusing copy of the way a person acts or speaks
 - > impersonal. While, contrastingly, the artist stares back at his viewer in bottomless, startling self-portraits. <

- an appearance that may be false

- a mark that is left when an object is pressed hard into a surface
 - > In the future, he hacked his hearing aides to detect wifi signals. <

- all the copies of a book that are printed at one time, with few or no changes to the contents since the last time the book was printed
 - > I'm terrible at telling jokes. <
