Dream Diary No. 3

Sept. 7th 2024 - Oct. 16th 2024

“Life is but a dream. (Not Really)”

If I were to take a pencil and draw across the sky would I like it?

If this body of work encapsulates anything from myself, let it be a dream.

If my brush was on fire and I painted fire and then looked 3 times back at myself would I still be me?

If the painting is just the extension of drawing then the dream is just the extension of the self.
