these works are a way of repairing, an offering and a form of prayer they are about questioning and the acceptance of not knowing they teach me and I follow
they reflect my inner and outer life

- Barbara Laube

Analog Diary is pleased to present a solo exhibition of works dating 2019-2014 by Riverdale, New York-based artist Barbara Laube (b. 1952).

Laube's intensely expressive works are rich in texture and tone and exemplify the artist's intuitive, energetically-driven practice. Cues relating to the natural world abound – amalgams of voluminous paints, like specimens of vibrant, natural growths, trimmed from her canvas palettes are collaged onto painted supports; and titular references to the moon, trees, sea, sun, and stars are frequent – but, most of all, Laube's paintings describe the breadth of the human experience through their boundary-pushing expansiveness. In each work, Laube challenges the rote characteristics which have historically defined painted art works as Painting by engaging a broad range of mixed materials and subverting the supremacy of the picture plane. Throughout her diverse and generative approach, Laube impresses upon her viewers a feeling of wonderment and openness.

Barbara Laube is on view September 7—29, 2024 at Analog Diary, 1154 North Avenue, Beacon, NY. Gallery hours are Friday—Sunday, 12—6PM and by appointment. An opening reception will take place on September 7, from 4—6PM.
