

MONO LAKE

One of North America's oldest lakes, Mono Lake is ringed by calcium carbonate deposits called tufa. They were formed by the interaction of fresh water springs with carbonates in the lake.

Photo by John Dittli

↑
fact!

28 JUN 2013 PH 1

POSTCARD

Published by Peak Productions, P.O. Box 8022, Mammoth Lakes, CA 93546

Ian James

422 Ord St.

2nd Floor Suite C

Los Angeles, CA 90012

