

A toast for metro pcs (performance instructions), 2016

Fill a glass (with alcohol) and raise it

To a space for artists run by artists that may or may not become a pre-paid wireless service retail store, but will absolutely continue to live on forever and ever traveling in the vacuum of space.

Look around the room making eye contact with those around you

Here, here!

Drink the entire drink and place the empty glass on the ground and stomp on it once with vigor.

END.
