LOS ANGELES

PRESS RELEASE

Autumn Ramsey / Tyson Reeder

May 28 – June 26, 2010

Actual Size Los Angeles is pleased to present an exhibition of new work by Autumn Ramsey and Tyson Reeder.

Ramsey's and Reeder's work encourage critical discourse at the same time drawing us into an enigmatic and intuitive reasoning. Evoking references from Fauvism and Impressionism to music and fashion, their works combine art historical and pop cultural allusions through a diverse range of images, materials and applications. Ramsey's paintings and Reeder's painting and sculptures are orchestrated with an informed viewer in mind but they also make a broad range of cultural and historical references feel immediate, contemporary and lucid.

Autumn Ramsey (b. 1976) lives and works in Chicago, Illinois. Solo and group exhibitions include: Autumn Ramsey, Lloyd Dobler Gallery, Chicago, Illinois; Autumn Ramsey, The Green Gallery, Milwaukee, Wisconsin; Michelle Grabner's Never Quite Happy Home, Southfirst Gallery, Brooklyn, New York; Alogon, Alogon Gallery, Chicago, Illinois; The Dark Fair, The Swiss Institute, New York, New York; Presents, Rowley Kennerk Gallery, Chicago, Illinois.

Tyson Reeder (b. 1974) lives and works in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. Solo exhibitions include: Jack Hanley Gallery, Los Angeles, California; Fruit Bomb, Greener Pastures, Toronto, Canada and Hog Wash, Black Dragon Society, Los Angeles, California. Reeder has also exhibited widely in group exhibitions including: Gavin Brown's Enterprise, New York, New York; Canada, New York, New York; Angstrom Gallery, Los Angeles, California and Nicolai Wallner, Copenhagen, Denmark.
