Can I tell you a story about you?
A ghost story.
You are nineteen years old.
You are twenty years old.
You are eighty years old.
And you are thirty-eight years old.

Who are you?
Why are you haunting me?

Nobody can see you.
Nobody can hear you.

But the thing is,
I am not haunting you.
I don't even know who you are.

You are a ghost.
Then I am —

Can you see me?
