

No Place

Jacob Mason-Macklin

Wheatland

[Gallery A]

No Place Gallery

Beneath oxidized skies
Ash complexioned highways
Cast aside
Treaded stacks of worn wheels
Who, in the night
Burn, smolder, n' rust

Plumes of exhaust
Straddle street lights
Covering orange;
Seeking, stranded silhouettes
Who, in the night
Yearn, hunger, n' lust

A hopper overpass
Baits the path
Toward Wheatland
A tiger's eye siren beckons
Who, in the night
Pine under fallen coal dust

- Jacob Mason-Macklin

A special thank you to Hannah and Devin

Jacob Mason-Macklin is an artist born in Columbus, OH currently living in Queens, New York. Mason-Macklin graduated from the Columbus College of Art & Design in 2017. He is a 2016 alumnus of the Yale-Norfolk Summer School of Art and a 2019 alumnus of the Skowhegan School of Painting and Sculpture. In 2021-2022, Mason-Macklin was an Artist-in-Residence at The Studio Museum in Harlem, Harlem, New York, USA.

Recent exhibitions include "Underground" at Mamoth Gallery in London, UK (2023); "The Future Won't Be Long Now" at SOMEDAY, Lower Manhattan, New York (2023); and "It's Time For Me To Go" at MOMA PS1, Long Island City, New York (2022-2023); a dou-exhibition with artist Ryan Huggins at Page gallery, New York (2021); "Soul Procession" at Interstate Projects, Brooklyn, New York (2020); "Pure Hell" at No Place Gallery in Columbus, Ohio (2020); "Bounty" with Cudelice Brazelton at the Jeffrey Stark Gallery in New York curated by Amanda Hunt (2017).