Aluminium chains, steel, bass shakers,
cables, hardwares, vibration

Sauntering down the hill,
they reached the foot of the mountain.

Each one, burdened by weariness,
descended in a chosen direction.

All sought to remain unseen,
but one, so adept at secrecy's art, transformed into a rock,
playing its part.

The other merged as one with a foothill's embrace.
The foot of the mountain was full of thorns,
all turned into rocks.
