A cura di Ornella Paglialonga e Saverio Verini COLLI is pleased to present "Eulogy," the first solo exhibition by Andrew Iacobucci in the gallery's space.

The road you took to get here is lined with lively yet at times somber nature, gentle hills and industrial sheds, farms and small businesses, plowed fields and wild, uncultivated land. A couple of roundabouts, a few turns, and there it is: a large building—once a printing house, now a gallery.

Inside, you'll find a tiny, tapering hoof, the head of an equine, shadowy birds, distorted marks, illusory reflections, deceptive fruits, carved stones, distant landscapes, and words that lead you astray. Surrounded by creations that resemble creatures—wherever you are, wherever you go.

How are your dreams doing? That is the question the works ask—a threshold question, inviting you into this silent corner of the world, to take part in a celebration that is playfully unsettling.
