

The artwork is a complex, symmetrical abstract composition. A large, light blue diamond shape is centered on a tan background. Inside this diamond, there are three yellow, almond-shaped elements arranged vertically, each with a small red dot in its center. Above the top yellow shape is a light blue, rounded, face-like form with two eyes. Below the bottom yellow shape is a large, stylized, greenish-brown figure that resembles a person or a creature with outstretched arms. The entire composition is framed by a tan border. On the left and right sides of the diamond, there are vertical strips of white paper with faint, hand-drawn sketches of geometric shapes and lines. In the bottom right corner, there is a small, dark, stepped shape that looks like a staircase or a series of steps.
