All This, and Heaven Too

Mon 27 Sep, 5pm for 5:30pm start

Visiting international artist Nathan Coley will give a talk on his acclaimed public art project Heaven Is A Place Where Nothing Ever Happens. He will be joined by a panel of speakers, responding to the question, is heaven in the here after or the here and now?

The collective social condition of the modern metropolis can create topographies of ennui, spatial anxiety and alienation. Equally, the urban environment offers infinite possibilities for retreat and hope. Where and what are these sites of official and personal sanctuary in Melbourne?

Moderator

Virginia Trioli, journalist, ABC

Panel

Dr Paul Collins, theologian and historian
Prof Barbara Creed, Prof Screen
Studies, University of Melbourne
Rob Adams, Director of Design and Culture, Melbourne City Council
Juliana Engberg, Artistic Director, ACCA

Supper Room, Melbourne Town Hall
