'Collectables'

Evie, Howard, Hali and I had a debate about if it was collect-A-bles or collect-I-bles...we're not the best at english, but im pretty sure everything you see here is an artwork! And one, we all might like to own... Living with works of art opens them up to new ways of seeing them. I see the birdshit on the Dahn Vo piece of the Statue of liberty as much as i see its sinuous form. I zone into small details on the photo rather than the huge rock hard boner.

Collecting is fun!

Whilst some of these works are out of reach, many are surprisingly quite attainable. Whether a screen printed shirt , a metal pole full of 2020's Christmas dinner leftovers which have been slowly rotting in a suburban backyard, or a bunch of plastic roses wrapped in polyethylene from 1968... these objects all have immense value. We urge you to, collect!
