

Monika Stricker: Crawler, Flicker, Pierrot
Kunstpalast Düsseldorf, Düsseldorf, Germany
June 20 – July 25 2021

At the NRW Forum, artist Monika Stricker (*1978), winner of the 2020 Landsberg Prize, is showing a selection of her latest paintings and a projection.

Her works deal extensively with the anatomy of the human body and its sexual function. For the artist, who has primarily worked as a sculptor to date, painting and projection are additional media with which she explores approaches to physical experiences. Stricker's images radiate an intense sensuality that is both ambiguous and disturbing. The artist completed her training with Rita McBride in 2005. She lives and works in Brussels.

(Text taken from the website)