

Brawl

unique silkscreen prints on Somerset paper

Brawl is a group of 18 unique silkscreen prints. It uses the language of unarmed combat to score a fight for ten people devoid of context or setting. Every action is printed where an impact is received. Ten fonts are used to make distinctions between those delivering action.

Pool

4 glass mosaic panels

Pool is a series of A2, flat-shaped mosaic panels derived from swimming pool designs. The work uses traditional mosaic composition developed to accommodate large areas. Pool collapses onto a single reflective plane the surface of water with the bottom of a pool. Shades of white and black smalti tesserae reflect the colourless and adaptive qualities of water.
