Suzie Lapierre d'Argy & Vava Dudu

08.05.2026 - 06.06.2026

This exhibition marks the first collaboration between ceramic artist Suzie Lapierre d'Argy and multidisciplinary artist Vava Dudu, bringing together six unique stoneware vases born from a friendship spanning more than twenty years.

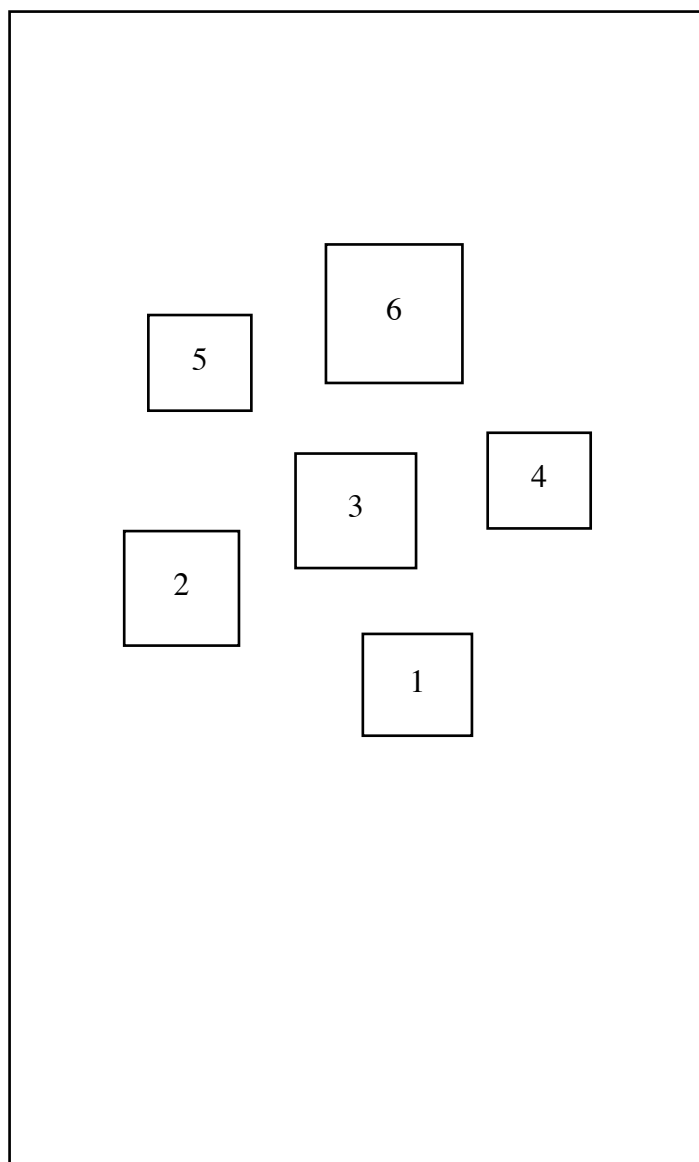

Shaped by Suzie Lapierre d'Argy, each ceramic form becomes a surface for Vava Dudu's unmistakable visual language: instinctive lines, expressive figures, vivid symbols and saturated color fields painted directly with engobes before being sealed beneath a glossy glaze. The result is a body of works situated somewhere between sculpture, drawing and contemporary ritual object.

An underground icon of art, fashion and music, Vava Dudu has developed a singular practice that moves freely across disciplines, from illustration and textile design to performance, poetry and music with her band La Chatte. Her work, often described as raw, free and radically personal, has been exhibited in institutions including Louvre Lens, Palais de Tokyo, Musée d'Art Moderne, Lafayette Anticipations and Les Abattoirs.

In this collaboration, her drawings leave paper and fabric to inhabit clay. Suzie Lapierre d'Argy's ceramic forms provide an architectural framework — vessels that carry memory, affection and shared artistic language.

Together, the artists create an ensemble that feels both intimate and exuberant: colorful, expressive and deeply alive, presented within the setting of contemporary art while retaining the spontaneity and freedom that define their practices.

More than a collaboration, this exhibition is the material trace of a long friendship — a dialogue between two sensibilities, where ceramic craft and graphic energy merge into a series of sculptural objects charged with presence and emotion.
