

Marie Angeletti

sexes

November 6, 2020 - January 30, 2021

Édouard Montassut is pleased to present sexes, Marie Angeletti's second solo exhibition at the gallery. This show brings together a set of twelve works made from enamel on pleather, folded on itself, then unfolded, following the principle of the Rorschach test. The hang uses the principle of the exhibition title, a palindrome. An artist's book also accompanies the exhibition.

(excerpts from sexes artist's book)

always this huge gap between what one feels, wants to attain, and what's there what's inside, what you can control - lungs you can act upon them
